

Parsons Cycling Team Jersey

A Parsons employee probably will not win the Tour de France this year, but those wearing this cycling jersey will feel like they could. Parsons values the health and safety of its workers, and that includes regular exercise. So when one of our employees suggested we have a Parsons cycling jersey, we jumped at the chance to design it. Featuring our name, our Parsons PLUS emblem, our “envision more” slogan, and a stylized bicycle that implies forward motion, this jersey is breaking away from the peloton to take the lead.
