AECOM is a global provider of professional technical and management support services to a broad range of markets including transportation, energy, water, sports arenas and government, to name a few. With expertise in architecture, design, engineering and construction, our 45,000 global employees serve clients in more than 150 countries and generated revenue of USD $8B in 2013.

The Health Care Reform and Open Enrollment campaign was launched to help increase employee awareness of health care reform's impact on AECOM medical plans and costs, the company's need to comply with health care reform, and the importance of personal accountability for health care spending. The business need was further clarified by claims and financial analysis conducted by Mercer, AECOM's health care consulting partner, which showed that 2014 medical care renewal costs would increase by $7MM if no plan design changes took place. Taking a longer view, especially as all impacted U.S. employers looked at the 2018 excise tax implications, AECOM's leadership determined its employees could understand the complex health care environment and the need for changes due to the new legislation, if given ample time, tools, and information to make well-informed decisions.

COMMUNICATION AND CREATIVE STRATEGY

Engaging employees in the topic of health care reform and driving enrollment into AECOM's new Consumer Driven Health Plan (CDHP), called the Premier Plus medical plan, a cost-effective medical plan that encouraged employee accountability for their health care choices, called for a consistent, multi-media approach. The campaign featured print, electronic, face-to-face, and interactive, online communication — both at home and at work. As an added convenience, all eCards and the health care portal were programmed using responsive web design to ensure employees could access and easily navigate the site from computers, iPads and mobile devices. The campaign was organized into a multi-pronged approach: Leadership Communications, Health Care Reform, Benefits Roadshows, and Open Enrollment.

The campaign also required that we create opportunities for targeted messaging to reach out to our two subgroups: those who completed Wellness at AECOM and "qualified" for the wellness medical plans including the new Premier Plus Plan, and those who did not. Additionally, our claims analysis research indicated that spouses and domestic partners represented the largest percentage of claims experience and health care costs, so reaching out to this group was vital.

Conceptually, the tagline, Your Health Care. Your Choices., together with beautiful imagery and the established AECOM color palette, created a campaign brand that was warm and welcoming.

Note: Please see our campaign results on the following page.

EXCEEDING EXPECTATIONS MEANS SUCCESS!

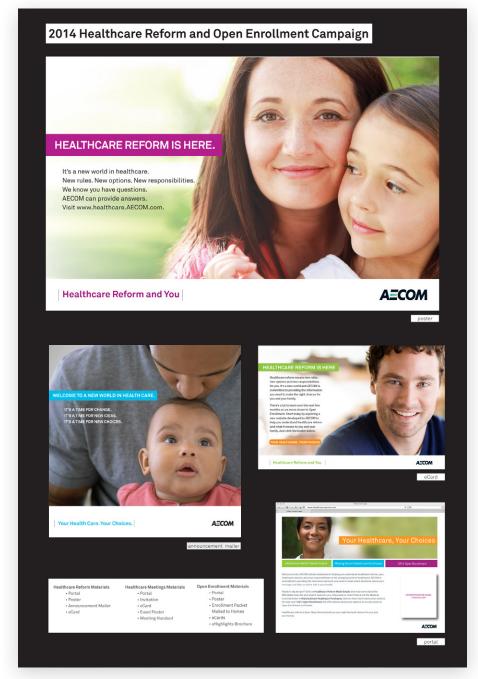

At the onset, AECOM determined that this campaign would be considered an enormous success if employees engaged in the process, if AECOM achieved 25% enrollment in the Premier Plus Plan, and if migration was achieved without a negative impact on employees' perception of their benefits. The results far exceeded the goals established:

OBJECTIVE RESULT To illustrate the changing health care • Over 16,000 visits to the health care portal were logged during the campaign. 1,100+ hits in the first hour — nearly industry and emphasize the employee's 10% of the employee population! need to learn more about the changes, • 53% of invited employees attended a Benefit Roadshow and hundreds more viewed the meeting presentation online. carefully review their medical plan choices, · Less than 1% of the eligible population defaulted into plan coverage, meaning 99% engaged by going to the Open and make responsible decisions that would Enrollment website and making their 2014 enrollment elections. impact their personal health and health • Anecdotal evidence of the Benefits Roadshow's success came from all over the country: — "... In the 2013 survey, which was conducted at the end changes to their health care program. of Open Enrollment, the U.S. Pay and Benefits category score increased by 12 points!

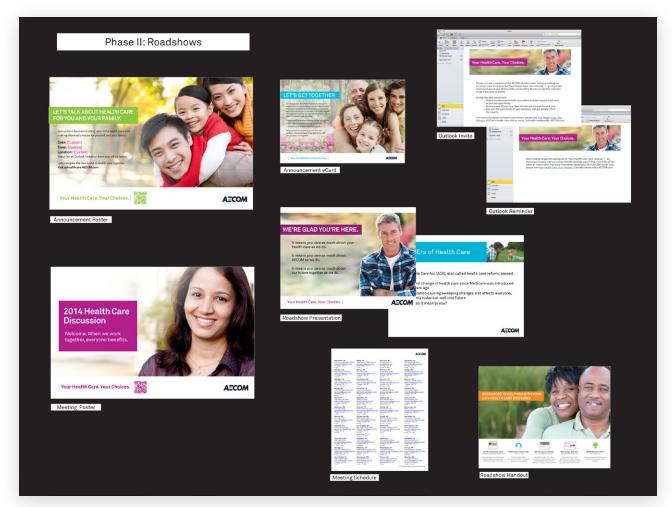

From the beginning, the Corporate Communications team collaborated on the design, development and deployment of the campaign with the leadership group, which included the Chief Human Resources Officer, senior vice presidents in Finance, Tax and Total Rewards, Human Resources (HR) leads in the U.S., site managers, and on-site Champions of Change (office managers and peer influencers).

KEEPING LEADERSHIP IN THE LOOP

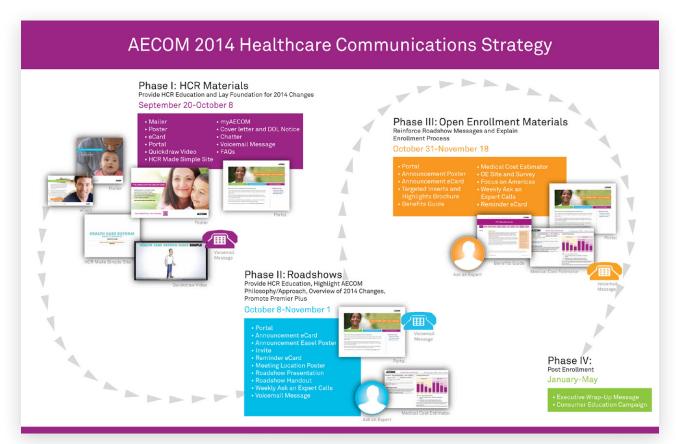

To ensure buy-in, concepts and strategy were presented to the leadership team for feedback early on. In addition, regular presentation meetings and bi-weekly conference calls were held to keep all parties informed and to provide a forum for feedback, wherein messaging was adjusted appropriately to address management and employee concerns or issues.

SNEAK PEEKS AND ACTION STEPS

The Benefits Roadshows logistical overview let the Champions of Change know upfront what communication materials they would have at their disposal to promote attendance at the meetings. This document gave them a thumbnail of the item, a brief description, and what action steps they were required to take.

Outlook Invitation

- What It Is: Customized Outlook Invitation that invites your employees to attend your meeting. Employees can accept invitation, add it to their calendar.
- Action Item: You will be sent the Outlook Invitation in advance. Please distribute or work with the designated office leader to customize the information with the times and dates of your meeting and forward to all employees at your location. IMPORTANT: Please track interest, if interest seems low, supplement communications to encourage greater attendance.
- Distribution Date: When you think would be most effective to drive traffic to meetings.

Outlook Reminder

- What It Is: Outlook Reminder that reminds your employees to attend your meeting.
- Action Item: The person who sent the original Outlook Invitation will want to send out the Outlook Reminder. To do so, o Open the original Outlook invitation.

 - Open the original Judicok invitation.

 Add the Outlook Reminder text (which will be emailed to you) to the top of the page (just below the banner).

 Separate the Reminder text from the original text by adding a couple blank lines.

 Customize the information with the times and dates of your meeting.

 Click on: Send Update' to distribute the reminder.
- IMPORTANT: Please send to ALL employees, not just those that accepted your prior invitation. We want to encourage walk-ins.
- Distribution Date: When you think would be most effective to drive traffic to meetings Suggested: 1-2 days prior to your meeting.

Benefits Roadshow Logistics for Site Coordinators

Health care reform communications set the tone for AECOM's messaging around the new legislation's impact on the company, our commitment to providing valuable benefit plans to our workforce, the need for employee accountability, and the importance of making informed choices.

he world of health care is changing. The Affordable Care Act, also known as health care reform, is the most significant change since Medicare was introduced almost 50 years ago. AECOM is here to help you understand how this new legislation affects you. By staying informed, committing to wellness, and being open to new ideas, we can work together to maintain our top-quality, affordable medical coverage.

UNDERSTANDING A NEW ERA OF HEALTH CARE

Under the Affordable Care Act, there's a new "individual mandate" that requires everyone to have medical coverage starting January 1, 2014.

- · You're covered. When you elect an AECOM medical plan, you and your family will have met your individual mandate.
- You've got options. If you prefer, you can purchase coverage through the new health insurance marketplaces (also called "exchanges"), but you'll likely pay the full cost for coverage
- The choice is yours. Since AECOM's medical plans exceed the law's coverage standards and we pay the majority of the cost, you will more than likely be better off in an AECOM plan.

Wellness at AECOM will remain an integral part of our benefits program. playing a key role in building a culture of good health and managing

- Wellness is important for all. The new law promotes wellness and rewards those who take steps to improve or maintain good health, which validates the strategic direction we have taken with Wellness at AECOM.
- It works. Thanks to your participation, the program has been a huge success -AECOM employees are healthier overall and last year medical premiums decreased for those who participated in of health care, not only coverage, but also wher Accountability is important for all. Health care reform

- encourages responsibility and accountability for individuals by setting new standards for coverage and design. • Our obligations. Employers
- that don't comply with these limits will face substantial financial penalties in the future. As a result, we're changing our 2014 plans and adding new choices that allow you to take a more active role in your health care.
- You're in charge. When you are actively involved in your health care decisions, you improve your ability to receive quality care at more affordable costs

By making informed decisions, you can greatly impact your overall health

- · AECOM pays for most of your coverage. AECOM pays the majority of the expense to provide medical coverage to you and your family.
- · Costs on the rise. National trends show health care costs increasing 9% to 12% in 2014, so it's important that we work together to monitor and manage our collective spending.
- · New choices, tools on the way To help you do this, AECOM will be introducing new health care choices and tools, Your 2014 costs will depend on the choices you make during Open Enrollment, your commitment to wellness and how you use medical services throughout the year.

As AECOM adapts to this new law, we remain committed to you.

GATEWAY TO HEALTH CARE

The AECOM health care portal was the resource for employees to access to learn all they needed to know about health care reform, open enrollment, the benefits roadshows, health care consumerism, and more. When the site was first launched, its main focus was health care reform. As the campaign evolved, so did the website, and information and resources were added as we got closer to open enrollment. To access the site for judging purposes, please visit http://ushealthcarebenefits.aecom.com/IABC.

MEDICAL COVERAGE AVAILABLE THROUGH AECOM MEETS COVERAGE REQUIREMENT FOR 2014

In brief, here's what you need to know about 2014 health care reform requirements:

- The world of health care is changing. The 2010 passage of the Affordable Care Act (ACA) marks the most significant change in health care since Medicare was introduced almost 50 years ago. With this change come new choices for all of us.
- Even as AECOM adapts to the changing health care environment, we remain committed to providing you with competitive health care choices and benefits. By staying informed, committing to wellness, and being open to new ideas, we can continue working together to maintain our top-quality, affordable medical coverage for you and your family.

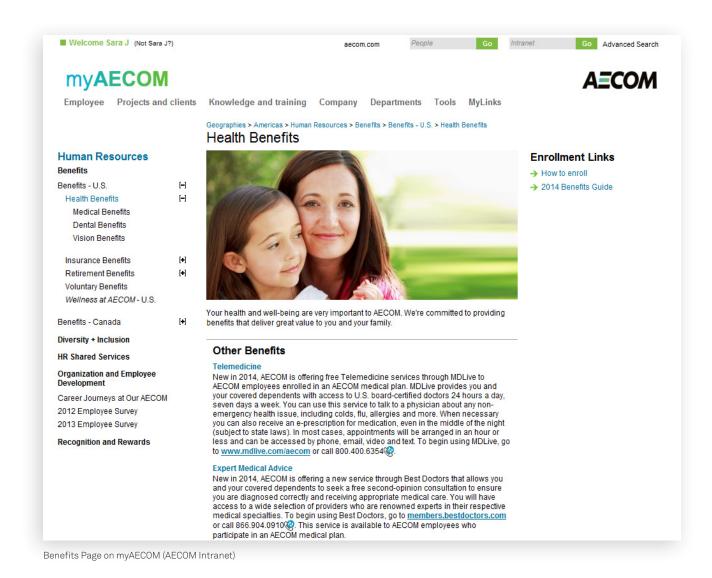

MAINTAINING THE DIALOGUE

FAQs were posted on the health care portal and on myAECOM, AECOM's intranet site. The FAQs were updated throughout the campaign to address employee and management questions.

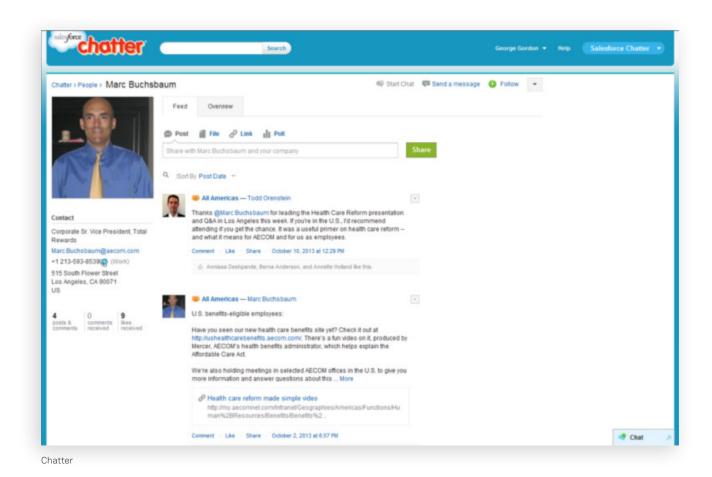

KEEPING INFORMATION ACCESSIBLE

Employees could easily access health care reform and enrollment information on AECOM's intranet, myAECOM.

NETWORKING WITH EMPLOYEES

Chatter is AECOM's internal social networking platform. Throughout the campaign, senior management used Chatter to quell employee concerns and send out benefits information. In the post below, Marc Buchsbaum, senior vice president of Total Rewards, encourages employees to visit the health care portal.

The Benefits Roadshows were an opportunity to deliver our messages and address any employee concerns in a face-to-face setting. While conducting meetings in 65 locations across the country was a massive undertaking, the results were worth it: it ensured key messages were communicated to and understood by employees, and employees greatly appreciated the effort and the chance to learn about the benefits changes firsthand.

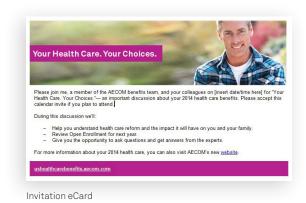

TAKING THE MESSAGE ON THE ROAD

Promotion of the Benefits Roadshows took many forms. An eCard announced the roadshows and linked to a roadshow meeting schedule on the health care portal. The invitation was customizable by the local office managers, as was the eCard reminding employees to attend. Posters were used to announce the Roadshow and also to direct employees to the specific meeting location.

In addition, corporate benefits staff was in constant communication with location site managers where roadshows were being held, to learn of specific employee concerns at each location, and to manage logistics.

GETTING FACE-TO-FACE

The 20-minute PowerPoint deck was delivered to employees by a Corporate HR representative and the onsite Champion of Change and ended with a Q&A session. Employees who missed the session could view a Brainshark of the meeting presentation on the health care portal. The Brainshark can be viewed at http://ushealthcarebenefits.aecom.com/IABC/review.html.

PROMOTING TOOLS AND RESOURCES

This handout was given to all who attended the Benefits Roadshows and directed them to new tools and resources to learn more, calculate their costs, and enroll. Included on this handout was the number for the AECOM Benefits Center, providing employees an opportunity to talk with a live benefits expert.

Benefits Roadshow Handout

Open Enrollment was held from October 31 to November 18, 2013. This was an active enrollment, meaning that all employees needed to make elections to have coverage on January 1, 2014 or be placed into default coverage.

TARGETING THE MESSAGE

The targeted enrollment packet was mailed to employees' homes. There were two versions: one targeted to those who completed Wellness at AECOM (and qualified for the Premier Plus Plan) and one for those who did not. The packet explained AECOM's health care options, encouraged employees to consider their personal health care spending, and urged them to calculate their personal costs.

ANNOUNCEMENTS AND REMINDERS

eCards were used again to launch Open Enrollment and later to remind employees to enroll before the November 18 deadline. The announcement eCard linked to a Brainshark of the Benefits Roadshow presentation and to the portal, where employees could get more information about health care reform, health care consumerism, and link through to the open enrollment website. The reminder eCard also linked to the Brainshark presentation, the health care portal, and directly to the open enrollment website.

TIME TO ENROLL

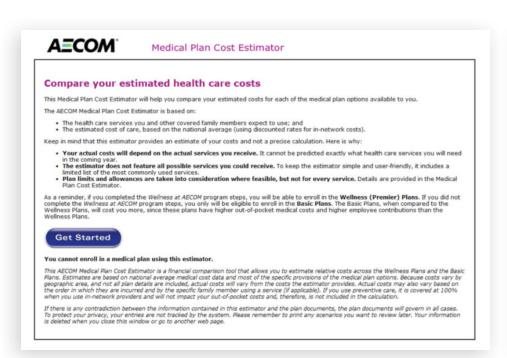

The Open Enrollment website was a vehicle to enroll for 2014 benefits and also provided tools and information including the Medical Cost Estimator and the Benefits Guide. Access to the enrollment site was made easy: employees could link to it through the health care portal, the intranet site myAECOM, through the eCards they received, or directly via the URL at www.AECOMbenefits.com.

CALCULATING THE COST

This tool was available to employees after they logged into the enrollment website at www.AECOMbenefits.com. It helped them project their total out-of-pocket costs for the various AECOM medical plan options to decide which medical plan was best for them.
