Brand Foundation

Our Brand Personality

The human characteristics, emotions and attributes embodied by our brand, influencing our look and feel, values and how we interact with our audiences.

Brand Foundation

Our Brand Tone/ Voice

Our tone describes the way in which our brand communicates with our audiences, influencing how people perceive our brand.

Confident

Do – We are experts. Speak with confidence and assurance; ensure accuracy of what we are saying; cite reputable sources

Don't – Brag; come across as arrogant; sound condescending

Instead of saying – We think the Internet of Things will drive massive change in today's global economy.

Instead of saying – Clearly businesses are blind to the costs involved in developing their own IoT solution rather than using a solution like Octave.

Sound assured – The Internet of Things is driving massive change in today's global economy.

Demonstrate an understanding of the customer's pain point – Understanding the high development costs involved in developing an IoT solution in-house, we developed, an all-in-one solution that not only reduces your costs but simplifies the process at the same time.

Authentic

Do – Speak directly and honestly; own up to issues or mistakes; get to the point; use the facts

Don't – Exaggerate, use vague marketing jargon, overpromise or oversell

Instead of saying – Semtech will make sure your devices are always 100% secure.

Instead of saying – Lots of companies are having issues due to delayed shipments from China, so you are not alone. We are doing more than others to address the issue and expect products that have been delayed being shipped by the end of the month. (i.e. – making up a deadline)

Be truthful and present the reality of a situation – The fact is that no provider can keep you 100% secure, but given Semtech's proven track record in protection and security we will help you protect your investment and resolve any issues quickly.

Always take the high road while showcasing our strengths – As a US based company, Semtech follows strict quality, reliability and security standards and can deliver to the tight timelines necessary to give your business the competitive advantage it needs.

Empowering

Do – Use affirmative language; sound encouraging; share knowledge; give constructive advice with the customers' best interest at heart

Don't – Be depressing or grim; sound too stern

Instead of saying – Electrical overstress can wreak havoc on your critical infrastructure causing loss and expense. Don't risk it. Protect your systems and devices with Semtech Protection.

Reassure our audience – We know your investment is important to you. Semtech Protection devices help you protect your most critical infrastructure. And our team is here to help you, simplifying the process from design to implementation to make sure your project is a success.
